Salt Lake Goes to Boise, Ogden to St. Louis Bookmakers Think They Spokane.

LIVE GOSSIP ON P. N. L. PLAYERS NEW PLAN TO GET THE MONEY AND THE GAME.

The Salt Lake and Ogden ball teams ders open at Boise tomorrow in a game kane will have a time all by themselves fighting it out for first place at Spekane. The Lobsters are now one of the best drawing cards on the circuit, and are dubbed the "hard-hitting Lobsters" by the northern press. They have certainly earned that title by their work since the league opened and for this was granted the Delma beginning June 12.

The officials of the Delmar track believe the league opened, and for this reason it is thought the games at Spokane this week will draw record-breaking crowds. Next week Salt Lake and Ogden come south again.

The Elders must have made a great pickup when they signed "Rastus" Wright. He won the only game he pitched last week, shutting the Indians out, and helped things along by getting two home runs. When Edmarsh and the conduct a race meeting beginning June 12.

The officials of the Delmar track believe they have evolved a plan by which the anti-betting legislation can be evaded and still allow patrons of the races. The law recently passed in Missouri against betting on horse races treats only of "registering" bets, and by the new method of betting to be adopted no registration of any wager will be made.

A letter to Secretary Shepard of the Salt Lake baseball club from Business Manager George Shepard, who is with the team in Spokane, says that President Williams of the Spokane club has given Salt Lake permission to play Carney. The press of Spokane also quotes Williams as saying that the Elders can play Carney. All of this in the face of the kick against Salt Lake playing Carney, registered with the president of the league by Williams ever since he joined the team, makes one wonder if the Spokane president knows what he wants. He demanded in no uncertain terms that Salt Lake be stopped from playing Carney and then after forcing a decision, though perfectly just, in his favor, Williams turns and the street of the service of the common of the credit for the position of vice president, made vacant recently by the departure of Captain Fr. Fitz and His Pet Mix at Lagoon and Fitz Goes to the Mat.

A busy day for the local colony of fighters who are preparing for the fistic encounters to take place in this city in the near future was yesterday, but perhaps the most strenuous day's work any of them had was out to the Lagoon, where Bob Fitzsimmons and his lion held forth. Bob took the lion up the mountain back of the Lagoon, and Mr. Lion was not ready to return to camp when Bob was. As a result Bob and his valet had a merry time coaxing his lordship back to camp. Then the real fun of the day began. Fizsimmons decided to manicure the lion's claws, and getting him down on the big pavillon floor, went after him with a pair of pincers. On the first nail Bob got too close to the flesh. The lion let out a yell that shook the building, and at the same time let fly one of his paws that hit Fitzsimmons in the solar plexus. Bob hit the floor, and when he got his breath he exclaimed: "That's Just where I hit Jim Corbett at Carson City."

Fitz is now located at the Lagoon, and promises to have a busy time of it from now on.

In the city the center of attraction was now on.

In the city the center of attraction was Jack O'Keefe, at Willard Bean's gymnasium on State street. O'Keefe and Stift, his sparring partner, put in a hard afternoon's work. During the forenoon the pair ran up City Creek canyon and back again, both speaking in praise of the pure air and clear water found in the canyon.
